All personnel of the Nevada City and Grass Valley police departments, the sheriff's office, and the highway patrol were on the alert and prevented trouble by keeping gangs on the move preventing them from gathering into mobs.

Scientific Understanding of God Will Remedy Human Unrest Says Christian Science Speaker

A world negotiating, temporizing, and appeasing in search of a remedy for human unrest can find progressive relief and final healing through a scientific understanding of God, declared John S. Sammons, C. S., in a public lecture on Christian Science here Tuesday night.

Mr. Sammons, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, spoke at the elementary school under the auspices of the Christian Science Society of Nevada City. His lecture, heard by a good size audience, was entitled: "Christian Science: The Revelation of God's Infinite Goodness."

"The world, lulled by the mesmerism of its own illusions, sits at the fleshpots of Egypt and decries the lack of leadership," Mr. Sammons said. "Why does not God raise up a leader? they say. In common parlance, Why doesn't the President do something? Why doesn't Congress do something? Why doesn't Britain do something? Russia? This nation and that nation, this person or that person?"

Instead of this fruitless questioning, the speaker asserted, people need to lay hold on the practical truths taught by Christ Jesus, the Way-shower for all mankind. His teachings, as rediscovered in their original spiritual import by Mary Baker Eddy, offer "the key to true leadership and the answer to the competitive social currents and moral confusion of the times."

Christian Science offers to bewildered humanity a reasonable and practical way, leading to universal peace and well-being, Mr. Smmons continued.

"The answer," he said, "is in the perception and demonstration of the true reflection of God, which introduces into human affairs a decisive concept of God as Principle. It was this transcendent expression that gave Mary Baker Eddy the understanding and wisdom that so distinguished her leadership of the Christian Science movement. And it is the reflection of these spiritual qualities by the individual Christian Scientist that will carry this movement forward in the fulfillment of its saving mission. Her followers must consciously work with God to mold their characters, to cherish and expand the ideas of a practical Christianity. Thus will the world find its leadership, and the individual his freedom from the attractions and deflections of materiality."

Actual instances of physical healing through Christian Science were described by the lecturer in support of his statements on the way to meet the needs of the times. He old about a friend who was healed of acute rheumatism and internal cancer after physicians had given up the case as hopeless.

Another friend fell headlong down a stairway in the dark. After she had been completely restored by Christian Science treatment alone, an X-ray picture showed that the pelvic bone and an upper arm had been broken, but were perfectly set without any material aid.

Business problems also are amenable to the healing effect of Christian Science, Mr. Sammons declared.

"During the past ten to fifteen years business has witnessed what can best be described as 'an extensive chemicalization,'" he said. "The diversities and complexities of our economic structure continue to multiply. The answer is purely mental. It can be found only in spiritual ideas."

The lecturer explained that when he said the answer to business problems is found in spiritual ideas, and in the application of these ideas to the particular situation at hand, he did not mean better mousetraps or other objects of invention.

"True ideas are spiritual, permanent, indestructible," he continued "To reflect, express, or otherwise manifest spiritual ideas, we must turn to the infinite source of these ideas, namely, divine intelligence, or God. Christian Science reveals this infinite intelligence as unfettered, uncircumscribed, knowing no bounds. This intelligence eliminates obstructions, obviates delays, and is reflected in the natural aptitude of man for action that is both wise and right for doing that which is right when it is right to be doing it. This is the ordination of God's creation which becomes effective in human affairs through spiritual understanding. This action is both timely and timeless in the good with which it blesses all. When business—which is in substance the activity of right ideas—manifests divine control it will not appear to be under personal control. When business expresses more of the amenities common to that relationship, the co-operation, the understanding, the unity—qualities which are always in evidence where the spirit of the Golden Rule prevails. When business is seen as an instrument for the advancement of mankind rather than as a convenient vehicle for personal profit, its share will be as the measure of wheat of Bible times, 'pressed down, and shaken together and rushing over' (Luke 6.38).

"Business men must endeavor to express more of that Love which is God, the Love that brings freedom from human will and selfishness—not the false love of emotion or sentimentality, but the divine Love which offers the only permanent basis for a scientific relationship among men. This reflection of divine Love is the lubricant that will free the wheels of business from friction and wear, nourish ethics, and guard morality. Let this Love which is God govern your businesses and it will flourish, blossom, and be rich in its growth and fruitage. It is impossible for the human mind to produce a problem the answer to which does not already exist in the divine Mind. Mrs. Eddy has written 'Remember thou canst be brought into no condition, be it ever so severe, where Love has not been before thee and where its tender lesson is not awaiting thee' (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 149).

"In the thought of most people business is closely associated with the world calls progress, expressed in a desire to advance ourself, to get ahead. The goal is generally represented in some material, hence limited, objective. Christian Science reveals progress as purely and wholly spiritual. Mrs. Eddy says. 'Progress is the maturing conception of divine Love' (Miscellany, p. 181). Progress then is not in the acquisition of land, or in the erection of larger barns wherewith to bestow our goods. Our ability to perceive and to appreciate the nature of Love, to express in a measure Love's tender compassion, its infinite provision, its incomparable grace. evidences our maturing or growing conception of Love, or God, and is the only true progress."

EXPERTS SPLIT ON GOLD BILL

This week the advocates of a free market for gold finally had their innings before a congressional committee. The hearing was held before the Senate banking and currency committee on the measure introduced by Senator McCarran and me to permit the unrestricted sale of domestic newly-mined gold. A committee from the gold mining industry headed by Dr. McLaughlan of the Homestake gold mine arrange for our testimony.

Unfortunately the hearing boiled down into a quarrel between economists. Our economists were led by Dr. David Lawrence of New York. The opposition by Dr. Walter Spahr of the national economists committee on monetary policy, also of New York. Dr. Spahr contended for the free coinage and circulation of gold at the established treasury price of $35.00 an ounce but, he objected to the free market for domestic newly-mined gold. The committee therefore was treated to a discussion of the subject on a highly intellectual and even confusing level. We did have the help of Fred Searles, New York mining engineer, who has held prominent positions in the government and is well known throughout the mining industry. However, the Federal Reserve, Treasury Department, and all of the other fiscal agencies of the administration filed adverse reports. They objected to any action which would tend to reflect uopn what they called "the stability of the dollars".

A free market for gold would. we think, give a higher price for gold in the market and the treasury has pegged the price at $35.00. The net result of the hearing was not encouraging. The economists are in a fight over its merits, the bankers are split on it, and the government fiscal agencies are against it. For it, we have substantial support among leading national economists, bankers and of course the gold mining industry. It looks like a draw so far—or a little less.

Frank Willard Hudson Marysville farm hand. who pleaded guilty last week to a cattle rusting charge in Nevada county superior court, was sentenced Tuesday to San Quentin prison for a term to be set by the prison board.

George, the older of the two, has pleaded not guilty. His trial has been set for May 27 in superior court before Judge James Snell. The court appointed Robert C. Schiffner, Nevada City attorney as defense counsel.

Mrs. Haley's
SIXTH GRADE

Our girls' baseball team played Mrs. Thibault's Eighth grade girls last Thursday during physical education period. Although we lost to them, 16-2, we enjoyed the game and it was good practice for us to play with older girls.

With Miss Hogan's Fifth grade we enjoyed a 45-minute motion picture called "The Good Earth", during history period Wednesday. This picture showed us in detail the way the Chinese farmers live, and how hard they have to work to make a living. Many families exist on their ancestral "estate", which consists of only one or two acres, and yet they manage, by hard work alone, to make that little piece of land support seven or eight people. We were glad to learn how the Chinese live, but we are more glad that we live in America.

the gas and light store on main street

Did you ever realize that P. G. and E. is a local merchant in your community?

It is just that! P. G. and E. sells gas and electricity through its "stores" in almost every Central and Northern California community. Instead of trucks or delivery boys it uses pipe and wire to deliver its "merchandise" to your home or place of business.

Like other local merchants, P. G. and E. owns or rents stores, employs local people and pays taxes. Actually, it's one of the largest local taxpayers in your community. Twenty-nine cents of every dollar of its revenue goes for taxes—federal, state or local.

P. G. and E. payroll dollars are spent and go to work locally for food, rent, clothing, amusements, and for other things that other local merchants have to sell.

P. G. and E. people are active in local first aid training, civic groups and welfare organizations. Like other merchants, P. G. and E. is a good citizen and a good neighbor.

for the record

Our postwar construction program has created 7,000 jobs, more payrolls.

It has put half a million new electrical horsepower to work for you.

Another 1½ million horsepower is on the way. That means still more jobs, still more payrolls.

Work never stops on our power-building program
